

CARDINALS CHAMPS BLUEGRASS LEAGUE FOR SEASON OF '22

Mayville Wins League Pennant for the 1922 Season by Defeating Cynthiana Three Straight in Post Season Series.

Defeating the Cynthiana Club by the shut-out score of 2 to 0 Saturday afternoon at the Harrison county athletic field, the Mayville Cardinals made it three straight in the championship series of the Bluegrass League and won the honor of carrying the pennant for a year.

The Cardinals got away at the opening of the 1922 season with a lead and maintained it but for a few stumbles throughout the first half of the season showing better generalship and team work throughout that first half than anything the other towns in the circuit could muster although they tried desperately to stop Mayville's onward march. The winning of the first half established her claim to the championship but in the last half of the season, the Cardinals, although essentially the same club, showed a weakening which grew weaker as the season advanced and the last half was closed with the Cardinals, once the proud possessors of the first position, ignominiously seated in the cellar division.

It was Cynthiana, which had shown considerable strength in the first half that won the honors in the last half and Cynthiana and Mayville fought fire at each other for the death grapple for the pennant. At no time in this series did Cynthiana look a winner and the first three games were lost to the Cardinals, thereby re-establishing their title to the championship.

In an exhibition game Sunday afternoon at Cynthiana the would-be champions defeated the champs by the close score of 4 to 3. Local fans who saw the game report it a good one.

DEATH RATE IN THIS STATE INCREASES

State Board's Figures Are Higher This Year By Many Than Last.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23. — If deaths in Kentucky are as numerous during the second six months of the calendar year 1922 as they were during the months from January through June, the state's death rate will be materially higher than it was in 1921, J. F. Blackberry, director of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics, announced here today.

The death rate for the first six months of this calendar year was 11.2, which is an increase of 10 per cent. from the 10.1 rate for 1921. This rate of increase probably will be maintained throughout the entire year, Mr. Blackberry said.

Deaths from influenza, he added, contributed most of the general increase, there being 892 deaths from this cause, as against 177 for the same period in 1921 and 263 for that entire year.

"The increase in the influenza death rate," Mr. Blackberry added, "is generally attributed to the fact that the period of immunization of those vaccinated during the epidemic of 1918 and 1919 has expired."

ANOTHER WARNING AGAINST DIPHTHERIA HAS BEEN ISSUED

State Board of Health Says Disease Exists in Epidemic Form Over State — Urges Precaution.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23. — The state board of health has issued a proclamation calling attention to the prevalence of diphtheria in the state and urging precautions to prevent its spread. The proclamation, issued from the office here, follows:

"Acting under the responsibility and authority imposed upon it by law, the state board of health of Kentucky hereby calls the attention of the fathers and mothers and school authorities in the state to the existence of diphtheria in epidemic form in many sections of the state. Repeated warnings that this would occur have not been heeded. Parents are urged to isolate promptly all children with sore throats until seen by their family physician; teachers are requested to send home from school all children having sore throats, with a note to the parents urging that they be immediately seen by their family physician; physicians are requested to have on hand an adequate supply of antitoxin and to administer at least 10,000 units in each case seen as soon as possible.

"Antitoxin may be secured at reduced wholesale prices from this board or from the depots established in each county in the state. County boards of health are requested to arrange for an adequate supply of antitoxin for use with the indigent at the expense of each county.

"Parents with children are urged to confer with their family physicians and have their children tested, and, if necessary, immunized against diphtheria so as to avoid this danger. There were 652 children who died in 1921 with this disease. These deaths were wholly unnecessary and ought not to have occurred, and would not if proper attention had been paid to the cases. The law requires that no child be released from quarantine until its throat has been found free from germs by a recognized laboratory. Most of these deaths were due to violation of this law and the courts of the state are requested to enforce it."

Local police were asked Saturday evening by the Fleming county authorities to be on the look-out for Richmond Royce, about 60 years of age, who sawed his way out of the Fleming county jail Saturday afternoon and made his escape. It was thought in this direction.

Royce was arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition law. He had been previously arrested and convicted for the same offense and the indictment returned against him this time was charging him with a felony as provided for the second conviction in the state dry law of the state.

Particulars of the man's escape were not learned here but Fleming county officials came to Mayville Saturday night in an effort to locate the man but they were unsuccessful.

FOURTEEN KILLED IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

Maniac Thought Responsible For Fire Which Caused Death of Many.

New York, Oct. 23.—Tenements were guarded today against a "torch maniac" believed responsible for fire which killed 14 persons and injured many others in an East Side apartment house Sunday.

Authorities were certain the fire was of incendiary origin. The finding of the skeleton of a baby carriage on the first floor, led to this conclusion. It was believed the maniac placed oil paper in the carriage and then threw a match in it.

The maniac is held responsible for loss of 21 lives in the last month in similar fires.

A number of children were among the crippled and dead. One or more had been dropped from windows by frantic mothers just as aid was about to reach them.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

Bishop Cannon would send Americans 5,000 miles to the cradle of Christianity and the grave of empires to fight in a cause that Americans, to put it mildly, are as yet in no position to understand. Our information on the situation, most of it from British and Greek sources, has not convinced us of the atrociousness that is Turkey or of the splendor that is Greece—especially in view of the fact that American naval officers on the spot do not seem entirely convinced of the facts and fauces in the case.—Baltimore Sun.

The Democratic standard of a successful tariff law is when mills and factories are closed, millions of workmen are idle and soup houses and bread lines are active, as in the winter of 1914, for example, following the passage of the Underwood law, or back in the '90s when the Wilson tariff, which W. J. Bryan helped to frame, was in effect.—Omaha Bee.

COMMENT

If Henry Ford makes a few more cuts of fifty dollars on his machines, we may yet be able to own a flivver.

It's refreshing to listen to the wisdom of the old time Southern darkey expressed in a manner such as none other can express it. The type is fast passing away and we'll miss them when they are all gone.

We congratulate the childless Hammond, Ind., woman that she nursed and fondled doll babies and not poodle dogs.

Lloyd George, the world's greatest statesman and the master of many a crisis, at last met one that would not be mastered. The little Welshman is the last of the wartime premiers to be forced out of office.

Just as New Jersey was about to take all of the murder space on the front pages, Kentucky breaks out with a half dozen or so and the little town of Bedford "kicks in" with one that bids fair to get almost as much space as the New Brunswick affair.

Have you ever wondered, as we have often, about the future effect of Radio on church attendance? If one can sit in the living room of one's own home and listen to a sermon preached in Cincinnati, Louisville or Pittsburgh on Sunday morning or evening, it may mean many more vacant pews in the churches.

Fleming county no sooner gets rid of one murder case than another is on docket. Last week one man was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for slaying and the grand jury immediately returned another murder indictment. So far as we are able to learn none of these several murder cases in Fleming county were occasioned by Maysville Murder Juice, which in the olden days was blamed for everything that went wrong in Fleming county by that county's senior editor.

According to New Orleans news dispatcher the battles of Belleau Woods and the Argonne Forest were nothing to compare with the scraps the Legion boys have been having during the past week. Despite the Washington Conference agreements, poison gas has been very much in evidence at New Orleans.

Judge Cochran assessed fines amounting to $22,275.00 in three days of court at Covington last week on prohibition charges and practically all of the fines were promptly paid. The moonshining and bootlegging business appears to be very prosperous.

Vice Mayor Dodson is absolutely right in his contending that the city should be paid its license fees and he is also absolutely right in demanding that the city officials perform their duties in the prompt collection of the license fees or in the obtaining of warrants. Every dollar due the city should be promptly collected. Penalties are added on the taxpayer who does not pay promptly.

HOME HOOD STILLS

AROUND IN FRANCE

SAYS WRITER

Prohibition is "Wild Fantasy" to Most Frenchmen, Says Frazier Hunt In Hearst's Internat. Journal.

France is the home of the home still. In 1920, there were nearly two million home stills operating busily. One for every 23 people.

In the year before the war, more than three million acres of the best lands of France were in vineyards.

In the five year period of 1905-09 (only pre-war statistics have any value at present) France was by a 59 per cent. margin the biggest user of alcoholic beverages in the world.

During the same time, she had a saloon for every 20 families. In some districts, there is, roughly speaking a bar to every ten families. In the big industrial city of Rouen, there is one bar to every sixty people and on one street there are 150 houses and 75 drinking places.

These are a few of the astonishing figures Frazier Hunt cites in the November issue of Hearst's International Magazine in the second of his series of special articles on "The World War on Booze."

The popular idea of France as a land of moderate drinking, he flouts as one of the "national myths" with which every country is well provided.

"It would be almost impossible to overestimate the hold that grape-growing and wine-making have on the very life and imagination of the great majority of French people," Mr. Hunt writes. "Fully four million are in one way or another connected at some season with the trade."

"There can be no doubt that millions of litres of spirits are distilled and surreptitiously sold without paying any government tax or without being figured in the statistics."

"It is around this spirit-distilling and drinking that the temperance fight in France is centering," the writer says. "The one real temperance organization is called the National

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Maysville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.

Maysville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed — the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

George H. King, prop. grocery store, 615 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefited by them. At times my kidneys got out of order and the secretions passed irregularly. I suffered with a severe aching through the small of my back. When I had one of these attacks I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they never failed to cure the complaint." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)

PERMANENT RELIEF.

On November 22, 1920, Mr. King added: "The cure I spoke about in my former statement has proven permanent. I haven't had the slightest sign of kidney trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

Railroad Expenditures Stimulate Business

Ques. What has ailed business for the past two years?
Ans. Lack of nutrition.
Ques. What nourishes business?
Ans. Orders.
Ques. Whose?
Ans. Primarily, orders from transportation, mining and manufacturing enterprises.

Normally, the railroads consume nearly 50 per cent of the iron and steel products of the country. When inadequate income forces them to abandon improvements and betterments and retire from the market, business necessarily slumps.

Railroad activity is essential to good business conditions.

Going To Market

Like the Mother Goose pigs, the railroads have "gone to market" and, coincident with their return, business commences to boom. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has gone to market too, and, during the current calendar year, has purchased, constructed, or authorized in this high sounding name is that wine and beer are not considered in its temperance program. Wine according to Franco is not alcohol.

THE OLD RELIABLE

League Against Alcoholism. The joker

"To all appearances the wine, beer and spirits interests of France are as firm as Gibraltar. They control the Deputies and the Senate; through advertising, ownership and social prestige they have a complete stranglehold on the press and in the consciousness of 75 per cent of all the people of France the whole prohibition idea is a wild fantasy.

"Yet if America proves the success of her prohibition and if England and northern Europe move toward at least partial temperance then it takes no prophet to foretell the day when the sale of distilled spirits will be illegal throughout France.

"But wine is another matter. Its economic significance is tremendous. Until the 3,830,851 acres of grapes of France can be economically used for some other product than wine-making, total prohibition will be only a dream."

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York.—The newest wrinkle for those who must have their wine is to have it made to order. They even have latitude in the nationality of the wine—whether it shall be Italian, Hungarian, or what not. Respectable citizens living on the better streets buy their grapes and ingredients and then go round the corner to the foreign quarters and pay a charge on the basis of the number of gallons obtainable from the grapes. Many of the foreigners do a thriving business, and the price varies in the making, but the finished product does not cost more than from one to two dollars a gallon. The charge on their consciences must be another thing.

Even the powerful New York society woman has had to wait until now to be admitted to a regular social club on the same basis with men, and need no longer have the feeling that she is admitted on tolerance and as an adjunct to her male relatives. Mrs. Oliver Harriman is one of the leading spirits of the proposed Nassau-Hamman Club. She is head of the women's committee and has gathered about her a number of the social leaders of this city and the East. The club will cost about $2,500,000, and will have an estate of more than 300 acres at Nassau and will be most exclusive in that only club men and women will be allowed to become members. It is probably the first club of its kind. In addition to having large accommodations for members who wish to live at the club house, there will be an 18-hole golf course, two beaches, a fishing lodge and a score of tennis courts. So we needn't pity the society woman any longer.

its abandon, its vibrant players and subtle music, it is the theater at its best. The "Revue Russe" is the latest production of this kind and is headed by fascinating Mme. Kousenezoff, who is possessed of voice, manner, and picturesque charm. The actors have all graced such foreign play houses as the Femina and Opera Comique in Paris, the Imperial Theater in Petrograd, and the Moscow Opera House. What I liked most about this particular revue was the wholesome intimacy with the audience at the Booth Theater and the readily understandable point to all the numbers. Every word is given in Russian, and yet so effective is the pantomime and zealous the players, that any one can follow their delicious antics. It all makes you believe in Russia.

A business arrangement was offered Earnest Almless the other day whereby he might live at one of the very large hotels. He declined, replying that he would as leave room in the Grand Central Station. And yet there is a particular spot in that vast vault which proves popular with a few philosophical souls, days in and out. Along the north side, just above the gates of the upper level trains, is a long broad and imposing balcony. No travelers have occasion to be there, no red or green caps scurry about, abgago men, taxi men, or train men ever even approach it. It is the one quiet spot. The philosophers who seek it survey a fascinating scene. Little men with big baggage, newly arrived visitors from the provinces agape at the wonder of the town, self-satisfied traveling salesmen, parents with their children, bridal couples alone or largely attended, tawdry theatrical companies, greetings and goodbyes, beggars, idlers, pickpockets, millionaires, railroad workmen, all in motion, all make up the grand concourse.

In one coach on the subway yesterday, I saw a woman crocheting a sweater, one knitting a sock, one embroidering a towel, one crocheting a beaded bag and one sewing on a baby trifle. The only thing lacking in the circle was gossip.

NAVY WILL OBSERVE ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Friday, October 27, will be given nation-wide observance as "Navy Day", under plans announced tonight by the Navy Department.

Selection of the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt as the name-day of the navy was suggested by the Navy League of the United States. Twenty-one governors, mayors of most of the principal cities and more than seventy colleges and universities have endorsed the plan and reported preparation for local observance.

The navy will hold "open house" in all shore stations and vessels in port, including every ship near enough to shore to arrive by Friday.

FRANKFORT CHILD

(By 20 Cwt.)

John Thornton from Portsmouth, Ohio, sojourned in Aberdeen Saturday and Sunday on his way to Florida by the wagon route. He is an itinerant umbrella mender and general tinkerer and has traveled the world over in his business.

There was a train of fifteen automobiles passed through Aberdeen last Saturday from West Virginia, bound for Florida where they had purchased a tract of land with the intention of founding a colony. They were well-to-do looking people and had great faith in their enterprise.

Jerry Bennett, wife and daughter, accompanied by Miss Bess Campbell and young lady friend, of Silver Grove, Ky., motored to Cincinnati last Sunday.

Pearl King, of Covington, was the recent guest of his mother, Mrs. John Rigdon, of Adams county. Col. Glenn Bradford, of Zanesville, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. N. Bradford, at her Sprigg township home. Gwynne Bradford has one of the finest beds of peonies now in full bloom on his fine Adams county farm.

Ryder Paint Store.

The pioneer in its line in Maysville, the first exclusive store of the kind in northern Kentucky, and one that stands pre-eminently at the front for straight, square dealing and the best of stock; the name is synonymous of the best. This store under the management of John Fansler, who stands high in his community as a business man of strict integrity and "p.c.p." has fast gained an enormous patronage in all the surrounding country. By goods as represented and courteous demeanor, sure trade winners, and sticklers. The best advertisement this old pioneer store can have, is its many years of prosperity and large patronage, proving that it is merit that counts after all.
